Consultant Services

Individuals with Tourette syndrome often present as very complex in their multitude of associated disorders and tic symptoms that can change without forewarning. Differentiating tics from behaviors can be a real challenge, especially in a busy school setting. In order to assist schools in better understanding tics and symptoms of Tourette syndrome, the PA Tourette Syndrome Alliance (PATSA) offers consultant services.

A professional consultant from the PATSA provides the following:

- Observation of the student within the school setting (4 hours)
- Consult with school personnel to gather information
- Produce report summarizing observation, concerns from both school and parents, and recommendations for support and accommodations for the student
- Attend a team meeting to discuss the report and answer questions (2 hours)
- Documents and materials to assist in ongoing support of the student

A nominal fee of $600 is charged for this invaluable service. (Rate for additional hours of observation or meeting time is $100 per hour)

PATSA Consultants can also provide In-Service Training for Educators and peers. We are dedicated to making the lives of those touched by Tourette syndrome better, by educating those around them.
