Our Mission:

The PA Tourette Syndrome Alliance is a non-profit organization that promotes awareness and acceptance, provides education, and assists families, schools and communities while advocating for individuals with TS.

Tourette syndrome is a rare condition that causes a person to “tic” — move and make sounds that they do not choose. These tics can be hard to notice like a sniff or a rapid blink, or they can be easy to see, like repeatedly yelling a word or arm thrusting.

“Every day at school other students look at me like I am weird and they ask me to stop making the grunting sound that I make. I tell them I can’t stop it and they just think I am being mean.” Joshua, age 12.

“People at the store think that my son is out of control because I never ask him to stop yelling “hey”. I explain that it’s a tic and they just look at me like I have two heads. I really need people to understand this so they stop judging me and my son.” Theresa

Together, we can make life better for families affected by Tourette syndrome!
